EXPECT FIGHTING
ALONG BORDERLINE

Government Seems Well
In Control Of Situation

BULLETIN
Mexico City, Mar. 7.—Federal troops captured Jalapa, capital of the state of Vera Cruz, from the rebels early today.

Government troops are now in full control of the state of Vera Cruz.

Gen. Jesus Palomera Lopez, one of the greatest "killers" of the time, who was captured by federal troops in the state of Michoacan, will face a firing squad at sunset.

Gen. Palomera Lopez was accused of inciting rebellion. He is said to have killed more than 500 persons with his own hands.

El Paso, Texas, March 7.—The battle for the possession of Ciudad Juarez, most important city on the Mexican-American border, was reported under way today 25 miles south of the border.

The fighting is reported to have broken out between the small Juarez Federal garrison, commanded by Gen. Manuel Limon, and the Rebels, commanded by Gen. Caraveo, near the town of Samalayuca.

Limon commanded a force estimated not to exceed 600 men, while the strength of the insurgents was unknown, but was variously estimated at 2,000 to 3,000.

American cavalry and artillery units at Fort Bliss were known to be under orders for immediate movement if necessary to the Rio Grande.

has been evacuated by the rebels

In Ohio Penitentiary;
Convict At Large

Columbus, O., March 7.—Two
"life-termers," three men serving time for manslaughter, and Charles Jajuma, who figured in the recent five-man penitentiary delivery were among the 49 prisoners ordered paroled from the Ohio state penitentiary here today at a meeting of the state board of clemency.

Frank Valone, after serving nearly 11 years behind the grayish-old walls of the institution following his conviction on a second-degree murder charge by the Richland county courts, will be released April 1, the board ordered.

George Hazun, who also served about 11 years on a second-degree murder charge, will be released the who refused to take the chance to escape from the prison when Pat McDemott, and four others fled over the walls, was ordered paroled

POLICE START WAR ON CRIME IN CLEVELAND

Man Killed As Guns Are Held Ready For Action

WOUNDED MAN
STILL CRITICAL

Dragnet In Operation
For Slayer Of Policemen

Cleveland, March 7.—A burglar was shot to death here early today by police who are approaching all suspected criminals with their pistols ready, taking every precaution against a recurrence of yesterday's tragedy when Patrolman Carl Sherman was killed and Sergeant Martin Hoffman was dangerously wounded by two auto thieves whom the policemen sought to arrest.

Patrolman Arthur Gerdig, answering a burglar alarm to an East Side drug store early this morning, stood to one side of the entrance as a man jumped through a plate glass door in an attempt to escape.

When the fugitive refused to heed his command to stop the patrolman shot twice and the burglar fell dead with two bullets in his heart. He was identified as Lenel Morris, 25, by army discharge papers in his pocket. Several watches, stolen from the drug store, were also found in his pockets.

Meanwhile the search for the two auto thieves who figured in yesterday's shooting went forward. Twenty-five men and four women, suspected of having knowledge of the affair, were being questioned today.

Sergeant Hoffman, who leaped on the running board of a stolen automobile driven by the criminals, was reported improved but still in critical condition at City hospital.
He was shot twice by the older of the two desperadoes who also sent a bullet into the heart of Patrolman Sherman, killing him instantly.
The Cleveland Plain Dealer this morning offered a $5,000 reward for capture of the two gunmen.

CLEVELAND FIRE LOSS IS HEAVY

$200,000 Damage Done By Blaze Which Threatens Damage To Other Structures

Cleveland, March 7.—Loss of $200,000 was estimated today as the result of a downtown fire late last night which wrecked the second floor of one building and threatened nearby structures. Firemen were hampered in their efforts to extinguish the blaze by a terrific gale.

Euclid avenue traffic was blocked for hours and trolley cars were rerouted after several cables were burned out.

The Commodore Dietz Rental
company and the Household Clothing and Supply Co., were the offices most seriously damaged by the fire, believed to have started from the explosion of cleaning fluid.

SEVERE QUAKES ROCK FAR NORTH

Fear Tidal Waves May
Sweep Pacific; Ship
Reports Tremor

San Francisco, March 7.—A severe earthquake which was recorded on seismographs throughout the United States and caused fears that the Pacific ocean might be swept by tidal waves was believed to have centered in the far north, probably at the extreme tip of the Alaskan peninsula.

No word of any spectacular tidal disturbance had reached here early today from Honolulu or any Pacific port.

The Steamer Yokohama Maru reported by radio to Cordova, Alaska, that the vessel while near the islands of Four Mountains, felt the earthquake at 3:35 p. m., yesterday.
The master of the vessel said the shock lasted a full minute.

Mystery Shooting In Florida Hotel

Coral Gables, Fla., March 7.—One man was killed and another perhaps fatally wounded early today in a mysterious shooting at the Miami Beach Biltmore hotel here.

Although police were not positive of the identification of the slain man, they found the name "Thomas Walsh" written on an envelope in one of his pockets.

Railroader Killed

Canton, O., Mar. 7.—Robert Ernst, 24, an employee of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, was instantly killed today at the railroad shops at Brewster near here when he fell in front of an engine on which he and others were working. Ernst lived in Brewster.

No Race Riot

Canton, O., Mar. 7.—Police here denied today that there was any danger of a race riot, despite the fact that reserves were called out last night. The rumors arose, according to police, during a fight between a negro woman and two negro men.

OHIO SENATE PROCEEDINGS MOVE SLOWLY

Three of Ten Bills Set
For Action Reach
Final Vote

"LOAN SHARK" BILL
INFORMALLY PASSED

Currency Bill Goes To Governor, Nickels
Bill to House

Columbus, O., March 7.—Procedings in the Ohio senate moved at a snail-like pace yesterday and today the senate of the upper house were doubting the feasibility of the "jitney calendar" plan to speed up the sessions.

Of 10 bills set for action by the calendar committee, only three reached a final vote, the other seven being recommitted to various legislative committees.

Promises of a mandatory police and firemen pension fund were darkened today by the action of the legislators yesterday in recommitting the four Bender bills, providing for this, back to the committee on political subdivisions. The bills would make it a state law for cities to levy a tax of three-tenths a mill for the creation of a police and firemen pension fund.

Marshall Bill "Passed" Sen. L. L. Marshall's bill, aimed at
"loan sharks" and "salary buyers" which set the rate of interest to be paid to loan companies, was informally passed and retains its place on the calendar. It is to come up for discussion today. Provision is made in the bill that sets the rate of interest on salary loans. Small loan companies now charge 25 cents a month for every five dollar loan on a salary. The bill would fix this rate at three per cent a month.

The bills given the "OK" by the senate yesterday are:

The Nickels bill, authorizing the senate superintendent of building and loans to appoint persons to illustrate failing loan associations. It now goes to the house.

The Sanborn bill, already passed by the house, which makes all federal currency receivable and payable by the state and county treasurers in public transactions. It goes to the governor.

The Ackerman bill, permitting township trustees to contract for the lighting of roads through unincorporated villages. It was sent to the house.

Minor Bills Today
Bills on the "jitney calendar" for today, excepting the Marshall bill, are all of a minor character.

Among them are the Jones bill, providing for the creation of a monument to World war veterans in the state house grounds; the Chappelle bill, providing registration of lodge names, badges and insignia and providing penalties for use of these by persons not members of the lodges; the Shafer bill, making it an offense to buy, sell or possess a mechanical device from which the serial number has been erased; and the Van Wye bill providing state aid for minor normal schools.

A bill, introduced by Sen. D. B.
Johnson, Fulton county, favoring the farmers of the state received added impetus yesterday when the senate agriculture committee recommended its passage. This bill increases the maximum compensation for cattle slaughtered under the tuberculin testing laws. Grade cattle slaughtered would bring a maximum of $35 a head, an increase of $10 and pure-bred cattle would bring $70, an increase of $20, over the present law.

GALE DRIVES BOAT ADRIFT

Three Aboard Launch On Stormy
Lake Michigan; Searching
Craft Forced Back

Chicago, March 7.—One woman and two men were reported adrift today on storm-tossed Lake Michigan.

The three were on a fishing expedition off the coast of Waukegan, northern suburb, when a fierce gale blew up. They are Hans Nielsen, 30, his wife, and Nielsen's young brother.

Their craft is a 35-foot gasoline launch. When they failed to return last night, other boats set out to look for them. All were forced back by the terrific gale.

The wind did considerable damage in Chicago.

FIVE PLANES LOST IN FIRE

Blaze Destroys Hangars Near Kent;
Three Ships Are Saved;
Loss $50,000

Kent, O., March 7.—Fire which destroyed eight airplanes and a hangar at Kent field near here resulted in a loss of $50,000 it was estimated by Hugh Robbins, manager of the field, today.

The fire broke out late yesterday and fire fighters were hampered by the deep mud on the field.

The eight planes which were destroyed were partly insured. Three others were saved.

Revolt Seething South of Rio Grande

THE shaded portions on the map show the Mexican states in which rebellion is reported to have gained a foothold. News censorship has been established by the federal forces as on two former occasions following the assassination of General Obregon had the Gomez Serrano revolt and when de la Huerta was "out" against the government.

Salem Schools Rate Highly, Superintendent Tells Why

J. S. Alan Returns From Superintendence Meet In Cleveland After Hearing of Progress In Schools Over Nation

Salem public schools rank on an equal basis with those of other cities throughout the United States, and in many instances are in advance of schools in other cities this size.
J. S. Alan, superintendent of public schools issued this report on his return from the annual convention of the department of superintendence of the National Educational association, at Cleveland.

The theme of the convention,
which was attended by 20,000 educators throughout the country, was
"How can the public schools better serve democracy, and increasingly produce a higher type of citizenship?" Three main topics were discussed, vocational guidance, individual instruction and character education.

Tells of Character Education
"We are attempting to include character education in the first eight grades, and indirectly in the high school. Out of the 2,500 enrolled in our schools, very few give trouble while in school and not may go wrong when they leave. We may be too complacent, but we feel we are particularly fortunate in this respect," Alan's report on the third topic stated.

"Our method of 'pupil activity' or
'socialized recitation' tends to teach pupils to make choices and develop will power; it makes the individual the center of attention and develops good character," he explained.

A number of schools were reported by the superintendent to have introduced courses in occupations in seventh and eighth grades and compel all pupils to make a study of them. A special teacher is employed who holds conferences with students in small groups and assists them in choosing their life's vocation. Salem High, in the freshman year, has a vocational course, but it is elective, and taken only by students who do not take Latin.

Recommends Adoption
Alan recommended the adoption of the plan of teaching the study in Junior High, and the employment of a special instructor.

"A pupil should know what he expects to take up as his life work when he graduates from Junior High," Alan declared, and stated that for this reason, the vocational subject should be taken from the ninth grade and placed available to eighth grade students.

Salem High has a large percentage in students attending college, more than 50 per cent of the graduates enrolling in some institution after leaving school. Courses in scholastic work, as found in the Salem High school curriculum, are excellent preparation for college study.
The school head declared, almost all graduates who wish to attend college, finally matriculating at some institution, and a very small percentage failed to remain.

"A comparison of our activities with those of other cities shows that we are doing about all the things others are, and that in some respects we are in advance of many cities of our size. In spite of the questioning of our college preparatory work about a year ago, almost all graduates who showed a willingness to continue in school, finally matriculated," the report stated.

BLISS COMPANY STACK TOPPLES DURING STORM

Plant Closes Down For Repairs; Circleville
Hard Hit

LIMA MAN BLOWN
INTO AUTO'S PATH

Traffic Hindered, Phone
Service Disrupted;
Bad Fire

A stack at the E. W. Bliss company was blown down during heavy winds last night resulting in suspension of operations at the plant today. The damage will be repaired by tonight, according to company officials.

The stack was constructed of steel and was 80 feet high.

The gale which resulted in the damage to the Bliss company swept through Ohio last night and into Thursday and caused considerable property damage. Weather observers reported wind velocities of over 60 miles an hour at points.

One man suffered probable fatal injuries and considerable property damage, as yet unestimated, was caused in the state.

Crossing Guard Hurt
Edward Bananburgh, railroad crossing watchman at Lima, O., sustained a broken jaw and internal injuries when he was blown from his post at the tracks into the path of an automobile. Attendants at a hospital to which he was removed do not expect him to live.

The high wind struck the western border of the state shortly after noon yesterday. Before dusk the gale was raging throughout the state.

In Cleveland store windows were blown in and electric power lines were torn down. Trees and fences in the outlying districts were levelled.

At Columbus the wind hampered traffic movements throughout the city, blew in windows and grounded telephone and electric lines.

Service on the Columbus and Eastern railway in and out of Springfield was halted for more than two hours when power lines

RESIGNATION OF OFFICERS SEEN

Failure To Pass Bill
Given As Reason By Congressman

Washington, March 7.—Wholesale resignations of army officers, including many of the nation's crack fliers, was predicted today by Rep.
Morin of Pennsylvania, retiring chairman of the house military affairs committee, as the result of the failure of congress to enact an army promotion bill.

More characterized the failure of congress to act as "a tragedy for the cause of national defense."

With private aviation companies already luring many army and navy fliers into civil life by high salary offers, a new wave of dissatisfaction has swept over the service with the realization that congress had passed them by.

More than 5,000 army officers are caught in a "promotion hump," caused by the induction of many officers into the army during and right after the World war.

While this "hump" exists, according to army experts, the whole scheme of army promotions is thrown out of gear and some officers will scarcely reach the rank of captain before they retire.

MEXICO'S CIVIL WAR RENEWED

That army of the great unwashed in Mexico, comprised of those gentlemen who love to fight and who are constantly opposed to any form of government in which they have no hand, are again on the march, and we learn from the news dispatches that the revolt is already of man's sized proportions in five states.

Meanwhile, word comes from President Gil in the City of Mexico that "the government has the situation well in hand," while General Calles, the former president, is in the saddle and actively leading the federal troops against the rebels.

The trouble in Mexico is, as has been previously pointed out in these columns, that constituted authority reaches only a short distance from the seat of government at Mexico City—that the government in the several states, dependent at all times upon the sword and gun for whatever authority it may have, is not a government duly constituted by the people of those states, but a government constituted by the man who, at the moment, may happen to be president.

That is not a stable form of government. It cannot endure. Hence, there always are flares of civil war. Frequently, as at the present, these flares are of more than passing importance. They spread out their tentacles quickly, overthrow state governments, chase the federal soldiers out and set up a provisional government. That provisional government, of course, is just as poor as the constituted government so recently displaced. The difference is, however, that the "outs" are "in" and the "ins" are "out."

The cry recently has been raised that President Gil is only a cat-paw for Calles, who was prohibited by a constitutional provision from running to succeed himself, and that when Gil's short term is ended, Calles will be in there seeking the post again, without any opposition from Gil. However that may be, it is just as good an excuse as any for the Mexicans who love a fight, and have taken to the road again with cavalry and foot soldiers, bent upon overthrowing the Mexico City regime.

This sporadic warfare will keep Mexico in a complete state of unrest for months. It has done so in the past for years. And so long as that sort of thing goes on, just that long will Mexico be one of the really unimportant nations of the western hemisphere. Only through the medium of a stable government for which every resident of the country has respect can Mexico hope to settle its internal disturbances and take its place in the spotlight where it belongs.

In the interim there will be a lot of bloodshed. Already many dead are unaccounted for in preliminary skirmishes of what appears to be a well-planned rebellion. And the end is not in sight.

The church trouble in Mexico is one of the latest of all that country's internal squabbles, and so long as the state tries to tell its people where and when and how they shall worship, there will continue to be trouble. And where there is religious trouble, it's only a step to an uprising of the character of that one now under way.

The Washington government has had nothing to say yet concerning this latest rebellion. Probably the new administration will keep hands off, just as other administrations have done, unless American life and property is jeopardized. That, after all, appears to be the only sensible thing to be done.

The attitude of the drys seems to be that we're going to have reapportionment, then we'll simply have to stop taking census reports.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The trouble with the radios at this time of the year is that they don't give a fellow time enough to read the seed catalogues.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

What Others Say

PROTECT NIAGARA FALLS

The beauty of the "thundering waters" is to be protected and conserved. The governments of the United States and Canada, whose representatives met at Ottawa, completed an agreement to insure such purpose on Jan. 2.

But this agreement goes farther than a consideration for the protection of the scenic beauty of the falls; it includes also provisions for the protection and conservation of their economic value from further degeneration.

The representatives of the two governments actively instrumental in composing this convention were William Phillips, American minister at the Canadian capital, and Mackenzie King, prime minister of Canada, who signed the document.

According to the terms of the convention there will be early construction of remedial works in the Niagara river above the falls which competent engineers have declared will preserve and perhaps improve the beauty of both the falls and the rapids.

In announcing the signing of this agreement, the department of state explained that recommendations made by the special international Niagara Falls board, composed of prominent American and Canadian engineers, created by the two governments in 1926 to make a close study of what steps should be taken jointly by the United States and Canada to preserve the falls, were to be closely followed. As there are no funds at present provided for this work, congress must pass on the entire project before it is put into operation. The proper appropriation must be obtained from the congress.

It is to be hoped that both house and senate approval may be had for this proposal. It looks to the perpetuation of one of the scenic wonders of the world and to the conservation of a power almost limitless in extent.

It is believed the proposal will find little opposition in Washington. And this is well. Such an agreement can do no other than bring closer together the already friendly two greatest sovereignties of this hemisphere.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, March 8

THE sidereal operations for this day are rather neutral in force, betokening a day of routine performance, excepting in the matter of correspondence, writings and literary avocations generally. But these may have more of the personal or cultural tone. There may be small anxieties, some irritability and a decided tendency to speculation, extravagance and self-indulgence. Moneys should not be thus jeopardized.

These whose birthday it is may have a rather routine year, with affairs largely carried on through correspondence or writings. Small anxieties and delays are shown, and there will be leaning toward impetuosity, ill-temper, extravagance and rash use of money. A child born on this day may be talented, with a flair for literary pursuits, but may be inclined to self-indulgence and extravagance. It may have fair success in employment.

Experience is the successive disenchantment of the things of life.—Penn.

ROUGHAGE ESSENTIAL FOR GOOD HEALTH

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

Constipation is found in every part of the world where civilization has reached. It is certainly one of the most common of human symptoms.

I speak of it as a "symptom." It is not a disease. It is merely an evidence of wrong habits. While constipation lays the foundation for various uncomfortable and distressing conditions, it may exist for a long time without serious effect upon the general health.

But there are sure to be, sooner or later, disturbances which are more or less serious. On this account, early attention to constipation is a duty which should not be disregarded.

Too much of the food we take is over-refined. The rough and fibrous elements are removed before it reaches our tables. We must have roughage; the coarse and perhaps indigestible portions of food are needed to give substance to the intestinal mass.

The walls of the intestinal canal are largely muscular. A liquid content would be unaffected by the contractions of these muscles. Likewise, the absence of mass would leave these parts without something to stimulate muscular action.

In contrast to the liquid material, there might be a hard, dry, concentrated mass in the intestines. Then, certainly, there would not be gentle stimulation, but, on the contrary, this solid mass would prove irritating and harmful to the bowel.

To avoid constipation thoughtful consideration must be given the choice of foods. Things must be found that will supply the rough substances required for normal action.

Primitive man took his food with seeds, core and peeling. The husk and hull, all the coverings of the grain, were included with the kernels. Even the bark of tender shoots was eaten.

We speak of these parts of plants as "cellulose." Without cellulose and plenty of it, the bowel will not cleanse itself.

All the vegetables, particularly the green vegetables, are capable of supplying quantities of cellulose. Fruits are rich in this substance. Let us see if we can select some of particular value.

I saw a table the other day. This gave the percentage of roughage to be found in each of several varieties of fruits and vegetables. Grapes, peaches, blackberries and apples.

OIL CONTROL IN DISPUTE TODAY

Rockefeller-Stewart War
Watched By Nation;
Fight Looms

Whiting, Ind., March 7.—Like the principals in a world championship boxing event, warring factions of Standard Oil of Indiana, as represented by John D. Rockefeller, Jr. and Col. Robert W. Stewart, strain in their respective "corners" here today awaiting the gong that will open the widely-ballyhooed proxy battle for control of the wealthy corporation's affairs.

This extravaganza of high finance—this "battle of the titans"—is scheduled to open this afternoon in the little office of the company refinery here. Technically it is the annual meeting of stockholders for the election of officers.

While the younger Mr. Rockefeller is complacently sight-seeing in far-off Jerusalem, his long shadow falls like a mantle over the Stewart camp to darken the hopes that the "fighting colonel" will be retained as chairman of the board of directors.

As the seven large iron boxes, filled with the precious proxies, were being carried into the "ring," Winthrop W. Aldrich, representing Mr. Rockefeller, openly boasted that his faction would dictate the course of the meeting.

and the federal government today was in complete control of the uprising in the eastern part of Mexico. The evacuation of Vera Cruz by the rebel forces under General Jesus M. Aguirre was announced here shortly before midnight.

General Aguirre decided upon evacuating the city after holding conferences with the various foreign consuls in Vera Cruz.

It is believed he was prevailed upon to evacuate so that bloodshed and destruction in the city might be averted.

It had previously been reported that most of General Aguirre's men had gone back to the federal side and that he had only 600 men left supporting him in the city.

Federal troops are already in possession of Cordova, Orizaba, Esperanza and other important eastern cities. With the evacuation of Vera Cruz and yesterday's recapture of Monterrey from the rebels, an early suppression of the entire rebellion was predicted here.

General Andrew Almazan, whose troops drove General Jose Gonzalo Escobar's rebel forces from Monterrey yesterday, is now in hot pursuit of Escobar.

General Kadillo's troops are aiding General Almazan.

Escobar's forces retreated to Saltillo, the capital of Coahuila, but the oncoming federal troops forced them to evacuate almost immediately. The rebels are now believed to be retreating in a northwesterly direction.

After the important victories yesterday and the announcement of the evacuation of Vera Cruz, optimism reigns high here. It is believed that the converging forces of federal troops will force General Escobar towards the American border and eventual surrender.

El Paso, Texas, March 7.—Fighting between Mexican federal and rebels was threatened today at several places along the border. United States troops from Fort Bliss are being held in readiness here to take protective measures if the rebels make an assault upon Juarez endangering American lives and homes.

Gen. Escobar's rebel army, which evacuated Monterrey, is in flight towards the American border and may engage in an action with pursuing federal forces close to the line.

A federal force is moving towards Nogales, Sonora, where fighting is threatened. This town is upon the Arizona frontier.

If the rival armies draw up for battle at any point upon the United States border the commanders will be warned that there shall be no firing into American territory. The fighting must be confined to Mexican soil.

Nogales, Sonora, Mex., March 7.—Two military airplanes were enroute from here today to re-enforce the Rebel air forces at Ortiz, according to Gen. Francisco Borquez, commander of the Northern Sonora revolutionary forces. The planes hopped off late last night, Borquez said.

Ortiz is the military capital of this state and the base from which the Insurrectos will move against the advancing Federal column, according to reports.

Telephone communication at Golden was temporarily suspended until repairs could be made to wires which had been blown from poles. Highways and streets were blocked by trees and debris. Snow accompanied the high wind in this section.

The cyclonic force of the wind in Pickaway county destroyed roofs, uprooted trees, shattered windows and grounded telephone and power lines.

Damage to telephone equipment at Circleville was estimated at $1,000 by officials of the Citizen Telephone company.

A portion of the roof of the Masonic building in Circleville was destroyed. Several stores in the same city suffered losses when the wind ripped away sections of the roof and blew in display windows.

A sudden drop in temperature was experienced in Circleville, the mercury dropping from 55 degrees at 5 o'clock yesterday to 23 degrees at 7 o'clock this morning.

Lindy and Anne To Stay In Mexico

Mexico City, March 7.—While hundreds of nervous tourists made plans for an early return to the United States, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his fiancée, Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, today enjoyed the seclusion of the American embassy, apparently untroubled by the events of the last few days.

The colonel no longer carries his right arm in a sling. His shoulder, which was dislocated in the recent crash here, is rapidly healing. He had "nothing to say" regarding reports from the United States that he would be married next week.

According to present plans of the Insurrectionists, a "strong" Rebel air force has been reported concentrated at Ortiz.

Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, March 7.—Resuming intense military activity, Nogales today again assumed the aspect of an active revolutionary center with 2,000 rebel troops pouring into the city from Southern Sonora.

Arrival of reinforcements began shortly before midnight and continued through the morning.

The new concentration here of Rebel troops indicates plans for launching an expedition against Gen. Gastelum who with 300 Loyalist soldiers captured San Luis on the boundary between Sonora and Lower California.

Possibility also existed that the contingent will be sent eastward to Juarez to assist Rebel forces there, reported in a heavy field engagement with Federals under Gen. Manuel Limon.

The first reinforcement troop train to arrive here carried Gov. Pausto Topete of Sonora, outstanding leader of the revolution, who granted International News Service an interview a few minutes after his arrival.

Topete declared "Mazatlan, important Sinaloa seaport, has been evacuated by Federal forces under Gen. Jaime Carrillo."

"The latter is retreating southward, burning bridges and railroads to cut off pursuit."

Happy Man, Ill For Five Years, Relates Wonderful Experience With New Medicine.

MR. WM. T. PENN

"I was sick for five years," said Mr. William T. Penn, airplane mechanic at Wright Field, Dayton, O. "and to realize that Konjola made me well takes my imagination. I suffered from indigestion and stomach ulcers, and when I say suffered, I mean it. There intestinal pains hit me daily, and I lost sleep and became nervous; and my condition generally was run down. In those five years I never stopped in my search for relief, but instead of finding even temporary relief, I became constantly worse."

"Konjola was recommended strongly, but I was skeptical. However I finally decided to try it, and by the time I had taken the second bottle of this new medicine I knew that I was on the right track at last. It improved so rapidly that I could hardly believe the change that was coming over me. Today I am my old self again. My wife and father, seeing the splendid results I had with Konjola are now using it with the same fine results. I hope that other sufferers will give this sterling medicine a chance, and I know Konjola will do the rest."

Konjola is sold in Salem at J. H. Lease drug stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

MANY KILLED IN BIG LANDSLIDE

Estimate Over 100 Dead
In Maderia; Rain

Lisbon, March 7.—A tremendous landslide in St. Vincent valley, Madeira, took a toll of more than 100 lives, according to estimates made today in dispatches from Funchal.

Many others suffered serious injuries. The landslide resulted from the recent torrential rains in Madeira.

Some of the victims were buried alive in their houses.

Several houses were pushed into the river at the bottom of the valley and carried out to sea with their occupants.

A few bodies have been recovered but continued heavy rain is hampering rescue workers.

United Cigars Tangle With Strong Seiberling Tires Tonight

Two Games Planned In City League For Memorial Hall Gym

The United Cigars, who caused the five-way tie in the first half of the city league, by their surprising defeat of the Seiberling Tires, in the final game of the regular opening half's schedule, will clash with their late victims in the feature game of the double-bill slated at the Memorial gym, tonight.

The Tobies, this half, have not been performing up to standard, and the outlook, considering the splendid work of the Tires, makes it appear the Arthur Stoner combination should wreak vengeance when the two meet. The Tires have started out with a clean slate, having won two games in as many starts this half, and have an excellent opportunity of winning the championship again.

The Tires-Cigars game is scheduled for 7:30, with the Salem Business College and Printz Club being billed for the second contest of the evening. This latter game looks like a setup for the collegians, who are sharing the top berth with the Seiberlings at the present time, with two wins and no setbacks.

Much attention is being concentrated on the opener, due to the outcome in the first meeting of the two teams. The Cigars, contrary to all dope, won rather handily, and caused a tie between the Tires, Furnace, College, Florists, and themselves. The Seiberlings, after a gruelling play-off, in which they defeated the Furnace and College fairly decisively, captured the championship, but this one setback, sustained at the hands of Scott Chisholm's outfit, gave Salem fandom the most unique event in the city's basketball history.

Strong Teams
The Tobies boast no outstanding stars, but have a classy aggregation of team-workers in Ellsworth, and Coy, guards; Scott, Center, and Filip and Miller, forwards. This combination will probably enter into action against the Seiberling's combine, consisting of Lewis and Kloos, forwards; Pete Sanders, center, and Glasgo and Jim Gregg or Al Sanders, guards.

The Printz club had its best evening of the season against the Tires, in the first half, when they almost provided the sensation of the season by nearly handing the champions a reverse. Since that game, though, the dusky lads have shown nothing, and just barely happened to beat the Junior Saxons out of sixth place.

So it doesn't look at all like the second affair will be any unusually close fracas, and the collegians

Saxons and Electric Furnace. The Flowers-Colleg tilt rates equally as high as the Tires-Cigars bout of tonight, for with Perry McArtor's aggregation finally showing real strength, there are probabilities that the S. B. C. outfit's undefeated march will be stopped.

The Postes, in winning an easy verdict over the Saxons, last week, with Pete Harsh in the opposing lineup, looked like they had hit their stride at last. All through the first half the team seemed to have the quality, but was continually a disappointment when it failed to live up to expectations.

The college probably has the best team of passers in the loop, with Les Older and Andy Hann, tossing in counters from almost anywhere on the court, the team has been the hardest to beat in the business. At no time this season has there been a team able to stop Older, who is without a doubt the most consistent performer of the league.

The Saxons have a chance of annexing a win over the Furnace tomorrow night, but this opportunity is mighty slim, when it is considered with what ease the Flowers took them over last week.

New Scoring System's Fate Will Be Decided In Meeting At Lisbon

A decision will have been reached before today's 24 hours have passed over two major sporting problems, now confronting high schools of Columbiana county.

The county schoolmasters association will meet this evening in Lisbon for a discussion of the point-per-player system of scoring county track and field meets, which smaller schools are agitating, for the reason that there is little interest in the competition, due to the ease in which Salem each year annexes laurels.

A second matter of importance, is that regarding where this year's meet will be held. Wilbur J. Springer, principal and athletic director of Salem High, who will also coach track activities, has invited the county schools to hold the meet at Reilly stadium, but several other school heads favor its return to the Lisbon fair grounds.

The new plan of scoring is agitated strongly by Coach Ward, of East Palestine, and was first brought up at a meeting of the county track and field athletic association, held at the county seat last month. Ward explained, as his stand on the matter, that some drastic measure would have to be taken in order to continue the meet as a permanent affair in the county, for smaller schools have no chance whatever, of competing against the larger school's teams.

Under his system, the total points a team scores in the meet will be divided by the number of boys enrolled in the school, the result being the total points awarded it in the meet. If Salem collects 40 points in the coming meet, under Ward's plan, they will be given 125 points considering that there are 320 boys enrolled in the Red and Black school, Lisbon, in order to win the meet, need score only 20 points, as this total will give it 142 points under the new scoring system.

The fact was pointed out by Springer to Ward, that last year, when Salem amassed the largest number of points in the history of the competition, and won easily, that the season was extraordinary, and that in each of the others, competition was close throughout, with Palestine one of the main contenders.

Track Prospects Poor
With prospects for track poorer in Salem High than they have been for years, Salem school heads are more opposed to the plan than ever, for it will wipe out any chance whatever the Red and Black has, of annexing the championship this year.

William Grove, faculty manager of athletics at Wellsville High, sided with Springer in stating that it gave the smaller schools too great an advantage, and in all probability, the Orange and Black institution will take a stand against passage of the plan tonight.

East Liverpool officials, in a letter to Springer, indicated that they expect to vote against it, also.

The vote where the meet is to be held resulted in a tie, at the athletic association's meeting, Lisbon and Wellsville voting in favor of the fair grounds, and Springer and Floyd Stone, representing Salem's bid to hold it here for the second two votes, and Ward, who cast both time.

Palestine ballots, naming Reilly stadium.

Salem's athletic plant will have undergone great improvement over last year, when the meet was held there. Grass has grown out on the field, the track will accommodate another lane, and additional bleacher seats may be constructed.

The meet is scheduled for Saturday, May 11. On the 18th, the Northeastern Ohio district meet will be held, and Springer is placing a bid to hold it here for the second two votes, and Ward, who cast both time.

"By Joe! it's good to smoke Luckies."

Felix Count Luckner

"Lucky Strikes? By Joe, yes. Let me tell you. I was cruising in my raider in the South Pacific. It had been damp, rainy weather and every bit of tobacco we had on the ship was mouldy and could not be smoked. We began to be desperate. The men were—what you call—grouchy. Along came an American ship. We captured her and after taking the captain, officers and crew aboard my raider and finding comfortable places for them to stay, I and my officers went over to the captured ship to see if there was anything aboard her that we wanted. We searched her. And what do you think? Under the cushions of a seat in the captain's cabin we found 500 packages of Lucky Strikes! I tore off the end of one and lit it and filled my lungs with it, and By Joe, I was a man again. We had enough for all the crew and we were all cheered up and we all became friends once more. By Joe, I was sorry to sink that American ship that had brought us those smokes. Lucky Strikes, they are wonderful, and my Countess, of course, wishes a fashionable, slender figure. She smokes Lucky Strikes when she is offered fattening sweets. And my life has always been an active one and I must be trim and fit. I love to feel what you Americans call 'peppy.' So no sweets for me. Give me a Lucky Strike instead. By Joe, it's good for us to smoke Luckies."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. "INTERFERENCE"

"Interference," a Paramount picture featuring four popular film favorites, opened at the State theater last night, and was enthusiastically received by the first night audience who were of the opinion that they had witnessed a remarkable screen performance. It is the kind of a picture that lovers of sheer drama fairly revel in.

The four characters who handle the interesting situations are William Powell, Evelyn Brent, Clive Brook and Doris Kenyon. It would be impossible to single out any player for all four give a convincing performance and have been admirably cast for the story.

"Interference" originally was presented on the English stage where it enjoyed a healthy run for two years. Next it was brought to these shores and given a showing in New York where it ran for nine months and was acclaimed throughout its run. Its transition to the screen was logical, and no finer group of players could be found to give it its screen treatment.

"Interference" has to do with a man who cared for his wife's career too late. When he is reported killed in the war, she remarries, unknown to him and when he is found to be alive, the wife is blackmailed by a former lover of her first husband. In a most unusual way, he discovers the plight of his wife and resolving to make amends for his disolute habits, obtains the damaging evidence—letters—and kills

Before Baby Comes

"Mother's Friend" is a comfort to expectant mothers. Externally applied, it relieves prenatal distress by relaxing tight tissues and muscles. And it is so soothing. Its daily use makes the skin soft and pliable.

Three generations of mothers have praised "Mother's Friend." "I think it is worth its weight in gold," writes Mrs. Lelah Mabe, Lawrenceville, N. C. "My baby was born without hardly any pain and it was all due to Mother's Friend."

Start using "Mother's Friend" tonight! It is sold by all drug stores. Write for free booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" (sent in plain envelope). Household Remedies Co., Dept. 28, Atlanta, Ga.

the revengeful one. The second husband becomes involved and is suspected of the murder.

William Powell is his suave, disolute self as the wayward husband; Evelyn Brent is the revengeful cast-off love; Doris Kenyon is the harassed wife and Clive Brook is the second husband.

"SUNSET PASS"

The "Old West" still lives. Jack Holt, with his company of players, including Chester Conklin, Nora Lane, John Loder and Guy Oliver, discovered that in some sections of the country, the "old west" still thrives in much the same manner that it has been depicted by chronicles of history, motion pictures and story books.

The company recently spent over two weeks in this atmosphere while filming scenes for "Sunset Pass," the filmization of Zane Grey's novel of the same name. Headquarters were established at an old trading post in southwestern Arizona. In this locality, smoke still rises from the adventurer's campfires, and here and there a lone Indian of the Navajo tribe may be seen plodding his way to or from the reservation near Flagstaff.

"Sunset Pass" is a story of cattle rustlers, and the bringing to justice of a band of thieves by a U. S. Marshall, a role portrayed by Holt. Nora Lane has the role of the sister of a leader of the outlaws, giving the story thrilling complications, because Holt and Miss Lane fall in love. "Sunset Pass" is said to be one of the most entertaining stories ever written by the famous author, and Paramount has faithfully transplanted it to the screen. Otto Brower who directed "Avalanche," also directed this Zane Grey story.

The film will open at the Grand theater for a three days' engagement beginning tonight.

"THE SKY SKIDDER"

A Whirling, whizzing, looping drama of love above the clouds comes to the Royal tonight in the form of "The Sky Skidder."

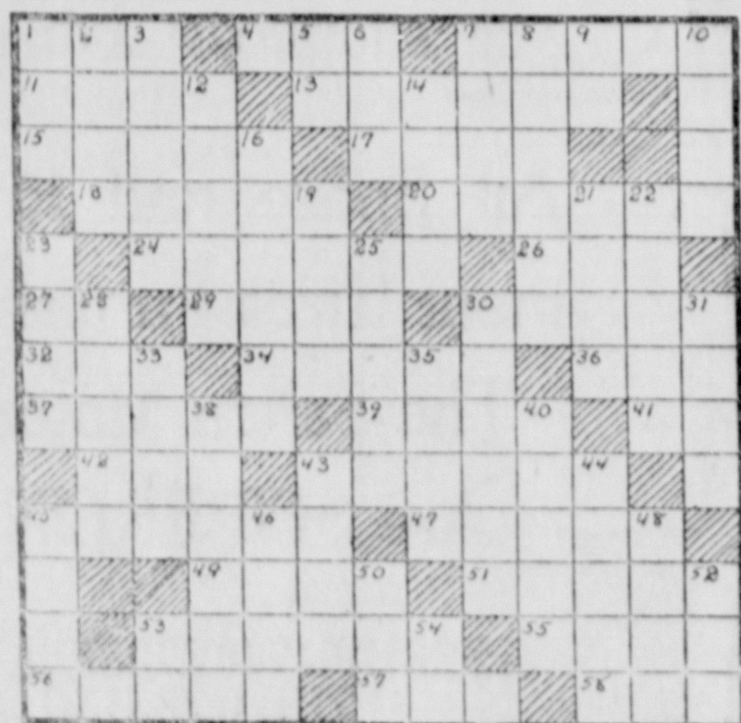

It portrays in a logical and vivid manner what may some time in the near future become an actuality in the advancement of aviation. In it too, one may grasp the possibilities of perfecting a fuel like that which the star, Al Wilson, so readily concocted for his screen story.

The action centers on the trial of a new airplane fuel which the inventor claims will fly a plane 1000 miles to a pint. It was during the trial flight of this great fuel that the hero sees his sweetheart endangered in a runaway automobile and he swoops to earth rescuing her with a rope ladder just as the car plunges over a cliff.

The photography of the action shows the rapid advancement of the cinematographer in this phase of camera work. The remainder of the picture is also crammed with thrills. A parachute jump is thrillingly screened in many closeup scenes.

The supporting cast, embraces Helen Foster, Wilbur Mack, Pee-Wee Holmes and others. The direction was by the king of thriller megaphone artists, Bruce Mitchell.

How To Fry An Egg

Health faddists will say, "Don't. According to the latest theory, there is only one way to render an egg perfectly digestible, and that is to "coddle" it. "Coddling" an egg is merely to place it in a saucepan full of boiling water which is immediately removed from the fire. Ten minutes of this hot water bath renders the egg firm enough to eat. If it is preferred hard, it should remain in the hot water for 20 minutes. This method slowly hardens the egg, without boiling. And everyone is agreed that rapid boiling, or any kind of very hot cooking is the wrong way to treat an egg.

So, if you must fry eggs, fry them slowly, and then there will be no disastrous results. What has given fried eggs such a bad reputation is the way they are fried. Haven't you seen eggs dropped into a pan of smoking hot fat, from which they are removed a few moments later, tough, rubbery, with frizzled, fatty brown edges? These are vulcanized eggs, not fried, and they are really unfit to eat.

A well-fried egg is tender as butter. It is firm, not gooey. Both white and yolk are cooked through, and there is no fluid. There's no difficult art in preparing eggs that way. The whole secret is in the temperature. It's merely a matter of low heat. Cook eggs slowly—that's all. Too hot a frying pan, or smoking fat, will toughen the white before the egg has a chance to heat through.

Too cook and serve fried eggs enjoyably, try this process: First, put your serving plates in hot water, or near the flame where they will keep hot. Eggs should always be served very hot. They cool quickly anyway, and lukewarm eggs are as depressing as lukewarm coffee or lukewarm soup.

Next heat the frying pan over a low flame. Place in it one tablespoonful of butter or of bacon fat.

Break eggs into a bowl carefully, so that the yolks remain whole. Pour them all into the warm frying pan at the same time, then they will

RELIABLE USED CARS

It pays to go to the Buick Dealer

Two used cars may look much the same from the outside. Mileage, model, tires and general appearance may be all about alike.

Yet there may be a great deal of difference nevertheless—a difference in mechanical condition which will soon show up in actual driving.

You have only the word of the dealer to go by.

That's why it pays to go to the Buick dealer. You can rely on what he says. And you may be sure his price is fair.

More Charm—no blemishes now

UNDERNEATH a clear, smooth skin, healthy tissues—full of rich, red blood—thrive.

No worry about pimples now. Instead there is a certain satisfaction that gives confidence.

All this because rich, red blood is Nature's way of building and sustaining the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—through the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

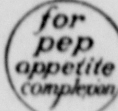

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S.S.S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did."—Miss Ruth Gahn, 1134 Elden Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.
